Gerard I.J.M. Zwetsloot

Research & Consultancy
For a healthy, safe and responsible business

Gerard I.J.M. Zwetsloot started his own business, Gerard Zwetsloot Research & Consultancy, spring 2015. Since 2007 he is also honorary professor in Occupational Health and Safety Management at the University of Nottingham (UK, China, Malaysia). Moreover he is a senior guest research scientist at the Netherlands Organisation for Applied Scientific Research TNO (Netherlands, his former employer).

In the period 1999 – March 2015 he was senior researcher at the Netherlands Organisation for Applied Scientific Research, TNO. In 1998-2006 he was also special professor Working conditions and Environment at Erasmus University Rotterdam. In the period 1985 – 1999 he was researcher and consultant at the Netherlands Institute for the Working Environment NIA. In 1975-1985 he worked as a teacher at the then new and innovative Teachers Education Institute Zuid West Nederland

Gerard holds an MSc in chemistry (University of Utrecht, 1985) and a PhD in Social Sciences (University of Leiden, 1994). His work focuses on innovative management and policy approaches relevant for health and safety at work and its relationship with business excellence, and/or corporate social responsibility.

He is editor (jointly with Stavroula Leka and Aditya Jain) of the book series Health Safety and Wellbeing – Aligning Perspectives (Springer Science) and member of the editorial board of the international Journal for Occupational Safety and Ergonomics (JOSE).

Gerard is involved in several (international) research and strategic consultancy projects. He has generated a wide range of national and international publications and is frequently invited as (keynote) speaker.
